Represented by [name] Tamar Ndoro hereinafter designated as "Participant"

For the project entitled [project title] Channel borrowing prediction to utilize cell towers and decrease call blocking

France Telecom and its affiliate Orange Côte d'Ivoire provide to the scientific community a unique database. Access to this database is only possible within the Challenge "Data for Development" to which the Participant desires to take part ("the Project").

Participants that contributes to the Project will aim to analyse information deriving from the database.

The Participant undertakes and agrees to France Telecom, the Project's organizer, to be bound by the following conditions in order to participate to the Project. Participant has to sign this document and to send it by email to France Telecom at the address mentioned on the Project website.

Article 1 – Definitions

- 1.1. Affiliated Scientist shall mean any person or entity who is employee of the Participant or who is directly affiliated to the Participant within the framework of its research and studies by contract or not or as a student. The names of the Affiliated Scientists participating to the Project are listed at the end of this document.
- 1.2. Committee means the entity of the Project composed of scientists and various personalities whose names are mentioned on the Project website.
- 1.3. Data means the database containing data phone calls from mobile users of Orange Côte d'Ivoire made between December 2011 and April 2012. Those data have been anonymised and aggregated by France Telecom and are made available to the Participant by France Telecom for the sole purpose of the Project.
- 1.4. Results means the submission written document handed over by the Participant to France Telecom containing the solutions proposed by the Participant within the framework of the Project. On the basis of this document and its content, the Committee will determine the winners. Results may contain tables, maps and graphics.
- 1.5. Copyrightable Results means the elements of the Results that are or will be protected by intellectual property rights such as software and algorithms or which are determined confidential by Participant.

Article 2 – Eligibility to the Project – submission and award

- 2.1. In order to be able to participate to the Project, Participant has to be (i) an academic university / faculty and/or a scientific research institution (or an entity having an equivalent status) or (ii) a non profit entity. For clarification purpose, Participant cannot be a commercial or industrial entity.
If Participant's application is accepted, a unique access key will be sent to Participant in order for him/she to download Data located on a web server.
- 2.2. Participant agrees to use reasonable efforts to carry out research in compliance with the objectives of the Project. Participant will submit his/her contribution by January 31st, 2013.
- 2.3. If France Telecom is required to do so by law or if the continuation of the Project is, in France Telecom's opinion, no longer viable or if the Participant breached these terms and conditions, France Telecom may at any time terminate the Project by sending a written notice to the email address provided by Participant. If asked to do so by France Telecom, Participants will destroy the Data from all supports within a week of receipt of the written notice.
- 2.4. The Committee will announce the Project's winners names in the Spring of 2013. Four prizes will be awarded by the Project :
 - (i) 1st prize : "Best Overall"
 - (ii) "Best Scientific" prize rewarding the works having used the most innovative and original analysis and approach
 - (iii) "Best Insight" prize rewarding the works considered the most useful and concretely applicable for the objective of the Project.
 - (iv) "Best visualisation" prize rewarding the most clear and appealing presentation of complex data. This prize can be cumulated with another one but will not be necessary awarded.
- 2.5. The winners will be invited to present their Results during the international conference "Netmob" (conference on the Analysis of Mobile Phone Datasets and Networks) to be held in Spring 2013.

Article 3 – Confidentiality

- 3.1. Participant shall keep Data confidential and undertakes to apply to Data communicated by France Telecom at least the same degree of care with which it treats and protects its own confidential information against public disclosure, but not 9.2. Each Party agrees to submit to the sole jurisdiction of the Tribunal de Grande Instance de Paris for the purposes of any suit, action or other proceedings arising out of this agreement. However, this article shall not prevent France Telecom to sue Participant, if the latter is not governed by French laws, before the latter's applicable jurisdiction specifically in cases of urgent remedy(ies) claimed to protect the Confidential Information.

Article 10 – General provisions

10.1 France Telecom shall be responsible for ensuring that the transfer of Data under these conditions conforms to all applicable laws.

10.2. Neither this agreement nor any right granted hereunder shall be assignable or otherwise transferable.

10.3. No waiver or modification of this agreement will be binding upon the Parties unless made in writing and duly signed by an authorised representative of each Party and no failure or delay in enforcing any right will be deemed a waiver.

10.4. In the event that any of the provisions of this agreement shall be held by a court or other tribunal of competent jurisdiction to be unenforceable, the remaining provisions hereof shall remain in full force and effect.

IN WITNESS THEREOF, the undersigned, duly authorized representatives of the Parties have entered into this agreement
